Product details

As seen at our original rural retreat, Babington House, traditional woven rugs are an essential part of the country-house look. The Walter is hand-knotted in India by artisans who use a special technique called gabbeh, where the yarns are dyed in such a way that the colour penetration is deliberately uneven, resulting in a unique movement of colours. A blend of wool and silk gives a softer hand feel, and because every rug is painstakingly knotted by hand, each is a true one off.

- Hand-knotted rug with 63 knots per square inch
- Traditional paisley design in tones of rust, cream, and blue
- Wool- and silk-blended pile
- Made in India by skilled artisans
- Gabbeh dying technique makes each rug unique
- Inspired by Babington House

Material: 68% Wool, 32% Silk

Care Instructions: Vacuum regularly on a low-power setting, using a vacuum cleaner without a beater brush, to prevent debris from settling into roots of the fibres. For best results, vacuum from different directions, making several passes over the area. Shedding is a natural characteristic of the handmade rugs which reduces over a period of usage.

Avoid direct and continuous exposure to sunlight.

Use rug protectors under the legs of heavy furniture to avoid flattening piles. Do not pull loose ends. Clip them with scissors to remove. Turn carpet around occasionally to equalise wear. Remove spills immediately; if liquid, blot with clean, un-dyed cloth by pressing firmly around the spill to absorb as much as possible. For hard-to-remove stains, professional rug cleaning is recommended.

Store your rug by rolling it front side out and wrapping in cloth for protection. Do not fold or store rug in an airtight plastic bag.

Place in dry, well-ventilated area. Use of a rug

pad

is recommended
