Product details

Archie Proudfoot revisited the instantly recognisable sign he painted for Soho House White City, based on the iconic BBC test card. The original work, Test Card F, hangs in the lobby so is one of the first things you see when you walk through the doors. Kate Bryan, Soho House Head of Collections, says: 'Archie's was easily one of the most popular pieces we've ever put in a House, we've had a lot of the TV personalities on the BBC talking to us about it. He's been able to create a new version of that with Jealous Studio to give this fantastic finish. It's lovely for anyone who's interested in broadcasting or the history of modernism and who loves White City House because it is almost the iconic image of the club.'
