Product details

Burleigh's aptly named Regal Peacock range was a hit with Queen Mary when it first launched in 1913, and has been one of the iconic British pottery firm's bestsellers ever since. The pattern features striking oriental bird motifs in rich blue shades on a white background. Mix and match as we do at The Allis in White City House with Burleigh's Blue Arden, Blue Asiatic Pheasants and Pale Blue Felicity china.

- Set of four earthenware dinner plates with gently scalloped edge
- Made by British pottery firm Burleigh
- Decorated with Burleigh's pale blue Felicity pattern
- Used in The Allis restaurant at White City House
